

Casement Windows and Awning Windows from Gorell

Gorell casement windows and awning windows—in a class of their own—for their exquisite beauty, excellent thermal efficiency and unique functionality. These projecting windows are equipped with the best hardware in the country for outstanding beauty and near-effortless operation. Gorell casement windows hinge open to the outside from the left or right, while awning windows open from the bottom for effective ventilation.

No operating window closes more tightly or securely than a Gorell casement or awning window. In addition, no other operating window is as efficient at “catching a breeze.” As a result, Gorell casement and awning windows are highly energy efficient, adding a new dimension of comfort to your home while keeping your home energy bills low. Manufactured to the highest standards of quality in America, they will give you decades of consistent, reliable operation and also hold their beauty throughout time.
