

Picture Windows from Gorell

Picture windows feature wide expanses of glass for light-filled rooms and a panoramic view of the outdoors—creating the perfect environment for you to relax at home. Because they are inoperable, picture windows are the most effective products available for preventing air infiltration and making your home highly energy efficient.

Gorell offers two picture window models—the 5100 Series and 5300 Series. A myriad of frame finishes, energy-efficient glass systems, and other options are designed to allow you to enhance the benefits you receive from your new windows. The choices you make can further reduce your home energy costs, increase your home's security or give your home a unique look and greater curb appeal.
